What Palm Springs really needs, said the individual sitting on the next stool at Charley Sprinkle's emporium this morning and inhaling bacon and a stack, is an official Siesta hour—especially this time of the year. He elaborated, after choking on the too hot coffee: "C.A., Lord Mayor Clarence A. Hyde, that is, should issue a proclamation. Anyway, he's way behind Gene. When Theriau was mayor he had City Clerk Louise McCann write him a proclamation about once a week about something or other. Lord Mayor C.A. hasn't issued a proclamation for weeks."

SLEEP, the poets say, is a blessed thing, he rambled on. "Now, supposing Clarence issued a proclamation something like this: 'That all business be suspended here, during the summer months, between 12 noon and 2 p.m.' When Bill Leonasio up at the fire station lets go with that double blast at noon, let's all retire to our downy, or otherwise, couches, and take a nap. Then, at 2 p.m., let Bill sound off that bull horn the way he used to when we had air raid scares during war time. Wake us all up. We'd be rested, feeling fine and eager to go about the job of earning our groceries. . . . I can see only two objections. That could be met by exempting the Dunes, Lido and Chi Chi from the Siesta rule. These insomnia victims have to have some place to go, you know. Secondly, there's the question of who would wake up Bill Leonasio to sound off the 2 p.m. awakening blast. Anyway, this Siesta plan is a good one—or maybe I'd better try sleeping at night."

ITEMS left over from last week, according to my notes: Grant Wood came into the office a week ago Wednesday and said: "This is earthquake weather. . . . I laughed and pointed out that scientists always say there is no such thing as 'earthquake weather'." Thursday morning he came in and he had the last laugh. "Did you feel that quake this morning?" he asked. . . . Mrs. Hans Hansen, in reply to a comment made here wondering where all of the pedigreed canines, so numerous on the streets during the season, were now, said: "They're smart. My Great Dane, for instance, sleeps under the cooler all day and only goes out at night." Being a home body, I wouldn't know but knowing the size of that dog, some night someone who has exceeded his quota is going to try to throw a saddle on him—he's that big.

THE MAIL this week brought an interesting letter from Howard Vincent O'Brien, Chicago Daily News columnist, who said some nice things about us when on a visit here this spring. "I marvel that you could spend even a few days in Chicago without finding something unpleasant to write about," he wrote. "It's a great city but it certainly has its drawbacks. . . . Thanks for the nice words about my comments on Palm Springs. The best aspects of it are rarely mentioned by the commentators. One of the best things you have there is the Desert Museum of which, alas, too few tourists know about." O'Brien, apparently, hasn't read what I said about Chicago weather last week—or was it Mrs. G who said that?

PEACE, it's wonderful. The war is over. Courtesy is coming back. . . . During the strenuous days of shortages everytime I went shopping I got shoved around by other buyers. . . . Said Mrs. G. one day after having sent me over to the meat department: "You'll never get anything. You're too polite. Bend your elbows and buck the line." That was after she had seen me trampled by women customers. . . . but yesterday at the Safeway there was a long line of women with filled baskets when I came up with one lone item, a bottle (soft drink that was). Said a nice lady at the head of the line: "Go on ahead, you won't take long." . . . And then, in the pedestrian lane at Amado road, a man driver STOPPED his car and waved me across.

WHAT DOES the little woman think of you, mister? Was much interested in a nation-wide poll which asked wives the main faults of husbands. . . . The No. 1 plaint was: "stopping en route home at the corner tavern for a short or two." . . . No. 2 fault of husbands: "forgetting anniversaries—flowers or candy." . . . Four of every 100 wives were beautiful characters. "Husbands are faultless" they said. . . . Must ask Mrs. G. if she was in on this poll. . . . Only eight of every 100 wives were too scared to comment. . . . On second thought, I won't ask Mrs. G. if she was queried. . . . Didn't someone say once that ignorance is bliss?

SUMMER is really here. The last vestige of snow has disappeared from the north side of San Jacinto peak. . . . That lull in town Wednesday noon wasn't because of my latest pet project—an official Siesta time. It was due to the fact that they were going to explode that A-bomb under water at 1:30 our time. Most Villagers said "what's the use of working" another hour the world may be blown up. . . . There was a string of birthdays in town last weekend—Dodie Dunlap on the 18th, Billie Brownell, the 19th and Merrill Crockett celebrated his on Sunday. . . .

Move Started To Intercede For Hospital

Citizens vitally interested in the operation of a hospital here this week expressed indignation over the rental demanded of the Community Hospital for the occupancy of Ward B, located on the Torney General Hospital grounds.

The fee asked was $1904 per month and retroactive to March 1, a sum which is virtually beyond the means of the Community Hospital to pay. The rental charge was set by the Chief of Engineers in Washington D.C., in charge of government surplus property prior to sale.

This week steps were being taken to get an adjustment of the sum asked. It was the opinion of Judge Eugene E. Theriau, president of the Community Hospital association that the figure presented may have been in error and that a lower rental price would be forthcoming.

Meanwhile congressional and senatorial representatives of this district and state have been asked to intercede in behalf of the Community Hospital in Washington.

One question that was being asked by many interested citizens was: "If the hospital did not pay the rent what could the government do?"

Sun's Anniversary
Issue Due August 9

On August 9, The Desert Sun will start its 20th year of serving Palm Springs with news of the doings of Villagers and the offering of Palm Springs stores. The issue of that date, No. 1, Volume 20, will be replete with articles and pictures of the 20 years that The Sun has dedicated itself to furthering the interests of Palm Springs.

Many changes have occurred here since the first Sun was published in August, 1927. One thing has not changed, however, and that is The Sun's endeavor to be first and foremost for the first and foremost desert resort—Palm Springs.

Brothers Win Melon Contests in a Walk

Eddie and Tommy Alexander Defeat White Brethren in Watermelon Race by Wide Margin

White boy, when it comes to eating watermelon, you'd better start taking lessons from your colored brethren! The above was proven conclusively at the Field Club Wednesday night when members of the Boys' Club competed in two watermelon eating contests and both were won by two Negro brothers—Tommy and Eddie Alexander.

And if the reader doesn't believe this story all he has to do is ask Earl Hough, manager of the Lions Youth Activity Committee or Ted Martell, who was also present.

NO HANDS ALLOWED

Two contests were held. On a table with no hands allowed to be put into use, approximately four pounds of melon was placed before each contestant. In both races the victors were Tommy and Eddie.

Both of the boys clomped away with their molars in a fast machine-gun-like pace. When the

Here's the Week's Hottest News Item

Note to Village residents on vacation who keep a close eye on temperatures here via the columns of The Desert Sun.

IT WAS HOT HERE THIS WEEK.

Hottest day was Sunday when the temperature reached 113. By the way, it started getting hot Saturday night and the minimum was only 80 degrees.

But, on the other hand, The Sun this week was in receipt of a letter from a Villager in New York who said: "I'm coming back to the desert, it was 94 here today—and sticky." It wasn't so dry here, either.

The week's figures:

Keg of Nails Responsible for Man's Injuries

John A. Tomatko, 33, was recovering today from injuries received in a peculiar accident on Ramon road Friday. With F. E. Robinson, he was driving along the highway when a keg of nails bounced off his trailer and spilled over the road.

While Robinson stood in the highway to divert traffic around the spilled nails which were a menace to tires, Tomatko started to pick them up.

Phil Rios, driving a city truck, pulled to one side in response to Robinson's warning. With W. C. Kinnaird, following him, did not see the warning signal and swerved to the left to avoid ramming the city truck.

In doing so, his car brushed Tomatko, inflicting slight injuries.

Thief Gets Cash From Pay Phone

No tangible clues were left by a thief who picked up an undetermined amount of small change when he looted a public telephone in a booth at the Palm Springs Tennis club.

The club is closed for the summer and police believe the theft was committed about July 18. The coins were extracted from the pay box after it was pried open with a screwdriver, investigation disclosed.

Plan Great Opening For Coming Season

Flash Flood Dumps Mud Into Stores

Torrent Climaxes Week of Storms in Mountains Near City

Climaxing what some old-time desert residents said was the most protracted spell of sticky weather they could recall, flash floods Tuesday roared through Cathedral City and left mud and silt in stores and offices to a depth of almost two feet.

In Palm Springs, intermittent rain fell, but the brunt of the torrents coming out of the mountains was in the area south and southeast of the city.

ROAD UNDER WATER

Highway 111, leading east from Palm Springs, was reported under water almost every day since last Sunday. The road was closed on several occasions but highway maintenance crews under direction of Harold Lienau, kept it open most of the time by dint of steady, hard work.

At some times during the week, water poured out of Palm Canyon at Araby Point to cross the highway in three places, several inches deep. Three cars were stalled and had to be towed out and one car was wrecked, skidding off the mud-littered roadway.

WIND PRECEDES STORM

Old-time residents of the Cathedral City-Rancho Mirage area said that one of the worst wind storms in their memory preceded the flash flood. After blowing for about 15 minutes, the wind subsided and the rain started. The fall itself in the desert area was not heavy but in the mountains, torrents fell.

Then, residents of the area said, they could hear the roar of the water down the canyons. The main flood flashed out of Cathedral Canyon. At times, said one resident of the town, the waves, hitting obstructions, splashed six feet high.

HIGH WATER MARK

After the waters receded, marks on buildings showed that the water had reached between 18 and 20 feet.

Cathedral City To Have Own Fire Truck

Cathedral City will be able to fight its own fires pretty soon now. The Riverside county supervisors acted favorably on an application of the city fathers of that community and have voted to give Cathedral City a fire truck.

Perhaps now, when and if, a fire should start there and the frantic owner of the property on fire, will not have to wait until a fire truck makes the long run from the State Forestry division at Beaumont. Last month fire was discovered in one of the homes located there and by the time the Beaumont fire equipment arrived with fire fighters all that remained of the building was a pile of glowing embers.

All Cathedral City needs now is a volunteer fire fighting crew to man the new truck.

Municipal Pool
Attendance Growing

Last week, according to Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann, 355 persons availed themselves of the chance to cool off by diving into the municipal pool, located Palm Springs for a third successive year by Frank W. Cutler.

So far this season, the police chief reported, 1362 admissions have been paid at the pool. This is compared to 2191 for all of last season with still two months to go this year.

"We're far ahead of last year and it looks as if this season will be the best yet," said Chief Kettmann.

The police department has been supervising activity at the pool this year.

Start Action For Flood Protection

County and Areas
Hit by Flood Tuesday
Seek Speedy Remedy

Annual menace of flash flood conditions which has caused untold damages to every community from Araby Point at the southern part of Palm Springs to beyond Palm Village will be solved during the next 12 months.

This was the promise held out to residents of these areas by both Max Bookman in charge of the Palm Springs Flood Control district, and J. H. Snyder, who directs the activity of the Coachella Valley County Water district.

COVERS ALL AREA

Bookman's district includes that area from White river to a point beyond Cathedral City to the south where Snyder's district starts and takes in Rancho Mirage, Palm Village and on down. Even before the flash flood which caused so much damage in Cathedral City Tuesday, plans to survey the flood dangers of Palm Canyon at Araby Point had already been made.

Rent Control As of June 30 Again in Effect

Rent and price ceilings in effect June 30, were again in force here today following action by the state and nation in restoring OPA controls. Exempt from price ceilings were meat, poultry, dairy products, grain, tobacco, petroleum and certain other specific items.

The measure which passed the senate Wednesday and was signed by President Truman yesterday gives the OPA another year to operate but restricts its authority.

STATE SENATE ACTS

The state senate, meeting in special session, Wednesday voted 33 to 0 to adopt a stop-gap rent control measure in the event congress did not act. The state bill allowed a 15 per cent rental increase.

The assembly did not act on the measure, awaiting congressional action.

NO ACTION HERE

Palm Springs city council, which informally discussed a local rent control ordinance at its meeting July 5, also by-passed legislation at its meeting today.

Councilmen felt that state and national legislation would take care of the situation, obviating local measures.

Publicity

Village Mentioned
In 2-Page Write-Up

Palm Springs got two pages of publicity in Life Magazine this week when an array of pictures of the east-west croquet match played here this spring was portrayed.

The match was on the grounds of Movie Producer Daryl Zanuck here with Zanuck's West team competing with Playwright Moss Hart's East team.

The East won, two out of three. Betting, according to Life, was high, wide and handsome.

A big score board was kept. In the east, Life's article recounted, players trust each other's memory, but out here, no one trusts anyone, not even the scorekeeper.

The two pages of pictures showed close-ups on the match with many noted figures taking part. (Some of the views definitely DID NOT look like Village scenery.)

The winning team got a cup over which they complained bitterly. It was so small, they said, it could hardly be seen with the naked eye.

Later, according to the Hollywood reporter, Zanuck bought a three-foot cup for the east.

October 21 Set as Date For Send-off

Western Week and Menswear Association
Convention Planned

The 1946-47 season will be given one of the greatest send-offs of any season here when the third annual Western Week is staged from Monday, October 21 to and including Thursday, October 24.

The event will be combined with a convention of the Menswear Manufacturers of Los Angeles, which is scheduled here for the same days. More than 2,000 buyers from all over the nation are expected to attend the latter event which will feature a big fashion show at the Racquet club.

PROGRAM IN MAKING

Members of the Los Compadres club have been busy all summer mapping plans for the big event. Kenny Paul, president of the club, and Wall Spalding, chairman for Western Week, have been busy on plans and preparations ever since the dates have been set.

Heading the committee in charge of the big championship rodeo and gymkhana and parade is Phil Delano and his chief aides are Joe Butler and Elmo Purnell.

BIG NAME JUDGES

Judges who will take charge of the Kangaroo courts will be big name judges, well known in the nation. Nationally prominent figures are also expected to ride in the big parade of the week. Invitations have already been sent to all of the famous riding organizations in the southland to participate.

The Kangaroo courts will be held afternoon and night on Monday, first day of the affair. On Tuesday, a great street dance is planned. On Wednesday there will be the big parade in the evening, followed by the rodeo at the Field Club at night. Thursday's feature is the Cowboy dance.

FASHION SHOW, TOO

Thursday will also mark the big fashion show of the Menswear association at the Racquet Club. The dance will follow the show with a well known cowboy band being sought for the event. Negotiations are progressing and there'll be real western music.

The event has been given approval of the Chamber of Commerce, civic organizations, business men of the Village and all organizations here which have pledged fullest cooperation.

PUBLICITY PLUS

The Menswear Manufacturers are publicizing their convention, and incidentally, Western Week, in all of their trade magazines and newspapers, giving Palm Springs plenty of publicity. Bob Dennis, secretary and publicity man for the association, assured the local committee that he would go "all out" for the affair.

Reservations are still needed for the great throng of buyers expected here for the convention and hotel and apartment men are urged to contact Barney Hinkle if they have accommodations for the period.

In mapping its plans for Western Week, Los Compadres club officials said they again would emphasize the "Go Western Every Saturday" theme, carried out here last season.

Red Cross To Teach
'Em All How To Swim

Ben Carpenter, Olympic swimming champion, will be instructor of a special three-day course in swimming at the municipal pool next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, both for youngsters and adults. Barney Hinkle, chairman of the Palm Springs branch of the Red Cross, and Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann, in charge of pool operations, said today.

The swim lessons, which will be free, will be held from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. each of the three days. Carpenter comes here from the Riverside headquarters of the Red Cross.

NEW GAS SUPPLY COULD SERVE all 4 OF THESE BIG CITIES

to serve Southern California's mounting population

Imagine what it would be like if the cities of Indianapolis, Akron, Des Moines and San Antonio were to be transplanted out here...their million and more citizens added almost overnight to Southern California's population!

Something very like that is happening now! Almost this number have arrived since 1940. Hundreds of thousands more are coming...to call on our resources far beyond the already tremendous demand.

Fuel Supply Solved

As a result there is a growing need for more and still more natural gas, the modern, economical fuel. To meet it, preliminary work has already begun on the largest long-distance gas transmission line ever built.

When completed, it will bring to Southern California a continuing, additional supply of this vital fuel...enough extra to care for four great cities!

1200-Mile Gas Pipeline

Starting from the Mid-continent Gas Fields of Texas, this huge, new pipeline will tap a great reserve of natural gas, transport it over the Texas plain, and lift it over the Continental Divide before ending a 1,200 mile journey in Southern California.

Giant Undertaking

At a construction figure of almost $6,000 per mile, its total cost will reach $70,000,000...one of the greatest engineering projects of its kind. 258,000 tons of pipe will be required. 4,000,000 man-hours of work will be expended before this "life-line" reaches us, a year and a half from now.

At its ultimate capacity...and in addition to our present supply...the new pipeline will deliver the equivalent energy of:

47,000 barrels of oil daily, or...189 carloads of coal every day, or...three times the daily output of electrical energy from Boulder Dam!

Here's what it means to you —a plentiful and continuous supply of natural gas assured for your well-being.

UNIQUE INVITATIONS—When Freddie Martin sent invitations to the opening of his new Ambassador Hotel Music Shop at the Los Angeles Ambassador, he kept them in the musical vein. They were recordings. Here he is shown handing Pat Erickson, pretty starlet, a recording to deliver. As messenger boy, Pat scurried around Los Angeles and Hollywood, leaving a record invitation with each of the band leader's musician and film colony friends. (Gene Lester photo.)

Freddie Martin Now Triple Threat Man in Musical Field

Orchestra leader Freddie Martin, who has climbed to fame on his popular orchestrations of the classics, entered the retail field with his Freddie Martin Ambassador Music Shop on July 16.

The music shop—and ultra-modern store—is situated on the foyer floor of the Hotel Ambassador in Los Angeles, the same hotel where the Martin music in the Coconut Grove has played to over a million people in five years.

TRIPLE THREAT MAN

By entering the retail music shop business, Maestro Martin becomes the only man in music who publishes tunes, plays them into popularity with his orchestra, and sells recordings.

Martin's Music Shop will feature records and famous name radio and phonograph merchandise. But it will, also, specialize in another Martin hobby.

HOBBY BECOMES BUSINESS

For a long time Freddie has been interested in furniture design. At the same time he has studied recording reproduction for the home. In his shop he will combine both his interests by featuring custom-made phonograph and radio combination pieces. He believes that music systems in the home can become a part of favorite furniture pieces, whether of modern or period design.

Just as he has always chosen expert musicians to back up his own saxophone, so when he opened his Music Shop, he asked Louis Gould, motion picture art director, to design it along modern lines. Mr. Gould will, also, help design the Freddie Martin custom-made radios and phonographs.

—By—
LLOYD

The far side of the "bowl" in which the cliff dwelling was nestled, next attracted the ever-wandering eye of Chico, who had to see what was beyond every obstruction; he has an insatiable curiosity about the unknown. Getting another running start, he scampered up this even steeper slope in long strides, his heavily-muscled legs carrying him to the ledge above without trouble. There he perched, egging us to come on up and enjoy the view.

SPECTACULAR VIEW

Jack attempted to follow, got two thirds of the way up, lost his forward momentum, hesitated, and stopped. There was nothing for him to do now but descend again and get another faster run at it. The descent from such slippery places is made doubly hazardous when wearing only a thin pair of shorts; if you have on Levi's, you can if necessary just sit down and slide.

We finally joined him and explored the top of that part of the mesa. The view toward the far side, to the south, of the great Tsay-begay area was especially spectacular from this height, and the small generator-shaped butte in the center of this broad flat valley showed up clearly from where we perched. "Mike" Goulding later told me that this centrally located formation is called The Hub.

In getting back down to the base of our ruin, Chico adopted a technique that was both unique and commendable. How he happened to hit upon it, even he had no idea, since he had never climbed over such rough-surfaced rocks before. Jack and I dubbed it the "crab" method of climbing down steep places. Chico would first sit down; then with both hands and feet pressing against the rock, he would arch his back so that his body was above the surface, and while in this "crab"-like position, would inch slowly down the slope, zigzagging back and forth in steep angles. This gave him twice as much leverage than if he had used feet alone, and moving sideways gave him added friction to support his weight. We later tried it ourselves, and were quite surprised to find it the easiest and safest way to get down such declines!

FIND "DARK ROOM"

At the base of the cliff, under our newly-discovered little ruin, I took the last picture on the roll of film I then had in my camera. When I turned the sprocket, it twisted far too easily. The film had come loose from the end and I couldn't rewind it! I hated to think of all the pictures I had just taken being wasted, and of all the others I had planned to take waiting until I could remove this exposed film. Jack had a suggestion: Why not use the Indian ruin? It was quite dark inside, with only one small opening, and if Chico sat in that, most of the light would be shut out.

Following his suggestion, I climbed into the darkened room, and with Chico uncomfortably perched on the ledge of the narrow doorway, trying to fill it up as completely as he could, I crouched in the far corner, gingerly opened my camera and hurriedly rewound the Kodachrome back into the cartridge. Weeks later, when I got the roll back from the processors, I was indeed pleased to learn that only two shots on either end had been ruined; the sixteen in the center were all good.

It was getting late, and we had to get back off the mesa to the station wagon. I located a much easier route going back, one that was far less dangerous than the one we had come up. We secured Jack's Graphic and Graphlex from the car, returned to the top by my new way, hurriedly took some 4 x 5 color pictures, and came back to the Pontiac. A few moments later found us zigzagging over the dirt roads, headed back toward the Rim and Harry Goulding's trading post. Our days in Monument Valley were fast drawing to a close. On the morning we would visit the 20th Century-Fox movie set in the center of the Valley, and then head on to the west, toward Rainbow Bridge, the largest natural bridge in the world.

AT THE MOVIE SET IN MONUMENT VALLEY

Following our trip into the Tsay-begay area, where we found the new ruin, we spent a leisurely morning around the trading post, Chico and I taking advantage of the new washing-machine the movie people had trucked in. When our clothes, at least whiter than they were before, were flapping in the early breeze, tied by short pieces of string in lieu of clothes-pins (ni true Navy fashion), we consulted Jack as to the day's schedule, deciding to visit the studio set in the Valley. Many's the time we had driven by and near it, but as yet we hadn't taken the time to investigate it at close range. So, we all piled into the station wagon, picked up the Doc who was heading down that way, and bounced through ubiquitous dust-clouds the intervening two miles.

All of the employees on the set wore characteristic brimmed skullcaps, not unlike those donned by college rooters, and on the brim of each had been painted some design identified with the wearer. In the case of the Doc, it was a saw and scalpel, dripping crimson blood! With the architect, it was a crossed pair of T-squares, and so on.

INDIANS ENCAMPED

As we neared the set, I noted the great encampment of Navaho Indians on the outskirts, about two blocks away from the set itself. Here they had drifted in from Monument Valley, erecting crude brush and canvas shelters, cooking over open camp-fires, while their men worked at the set, helping the carpenters and painters, digging holes, or caring for the hundreds of cattle and horses being brought in for the actual shooting of the film. Such movie locations are a boon to these Indians, for they are able to make enough money in two months' time to last them all the rest of the year. And the studios are unusually decent about hiring all able-bodied men, too, employing even the eldest, like old Adaki-aze, the medicine man, as guards to keep an eye out for vandalism during the night. Adaki-aze, for instance, was one of the earliest Navahos in the whole Valley, and he must now be almost 90 years old; it gave him a great deal of pride to think he was chosen to guard all this valuable property that had been brought into his backyard.

You might well ask, at this point: To whom does Monument Valley belong? It is a part of the great Navaho Indian Reservation, and thus actually belongs to the Indians themselves. Harry Goulding owns one section, because he homesteaded there from the earliest days. None of the rest of the vast country can be purchased; it can only be leased, just as land can only be "borrowed" from the local Cahuillas at Palm Springs, not bought outright. The film studios leased the section on which their huge set has been built. It cost them over a million for one set alone, and the picture, "My Darling Clementine," has a three and a half million budget! Going on such remote locations is no inexpensive procedure, you can bet on that.

LIKES SETTING

Next, you might also ask: Who originally chose this isolated spot for the picture? In this particular case, it was John Ford, the picture's director. Ever since he made the Academy Award winning film, "Stagecoach," here in Monument Valley, he has had a tender place in his heart for the area. So, it was only natural that as soon as he could, he should return. Usually in such cases, the location director, who travels about the country seeking sites for locations, picks out the ideal spots ahead of time, subject of course to the approval of the director and producer. In this case, however, W. F. Fitzgerald, the unit manager for Ford, had no such problem, as he certainly did with "Leave Her to Heaven," for example. In that latter film, locations ranged from Central California for the lake scenes, to Oak Creek Canyon and the Doodlebush Ranch for the supposedly New Mexican interludes, and an abandoned pool in southern Arizona which was rebuilt for the colorful swimming pool sequence.

What problems are involved in going on such remote locations? The primary concern in any desert country is of course water. In this case, it was found that the little spring back of the Goulding trading post was far too inadequate to supply several hundred people working feverishly for a month under the full summer's sun. Harry Goulding had just drilled a well on the flat below his lodge, but the water he tapped proved to be very hard, unfit for drinking purposes. The nearest adequate source was about six miles to the south, near where the road forks to head west to the Ojito trading post. Here there is a large well, with windmill and storage tank, and adjacent to it, across the road, the great Anderson construction company (who housed the Boulder Dam workers, among others) had built a complete little city for the studio workers. So, water had to be hauled by water-truck from this well to the Goulding post. There it was exchanged for the hard water being pumped, for that water could be used in watering the stock and sprinkling the dust on the set.

FOOD NEXT

The second problem to overcome is food. Goulding had recently bought an abandoned CCC camp, and was able to move most of its buildings up to his post, including a large mess-hall. This he equipped with modern refrigerators and stoves, and could feed about a hundred people at one meal. Food supplies were secured mainly from the north, from Bluff, Blanding, Monticello, and Moab, as well as Salt Lake City, all carried in by trucks. The studio base camp at Anderson's got most of their provisions from the south, from Flagstaff. Gasoline had to be hauled in to both places for distances of a hundred miles or more.

The set had to be very carefully constructed, so that it would match detail for detail the one already built in the Hollywood studios, where interiors had already been shot. This meant duplicate props in every case, and keeping all these straight was a major problem in itself. Most of the work here in Monument Valley was done from photographs of the original set.

In order to get each day's rushes developed as soon as possible, the film was each day flown by special plane to Winslow, where it was put on the regular airline on to Hollywood. In one case, before shooting began, one of the crewmen became ill, and a chartered plane was flown clear up from Los Angeles to take him back for more specific treatment. And that was why the Doc was on duty twenty-four hours of every day; to take care of any emergency that might arise.

We dropped the Doc off at his "office," which had been moved from Ted Barker's General Store on the set, around the corner to Bozo Well's Boots and Saddle store. Someone had tacked up a crude sign in front: "Professional Building. Appointments only." Back of the counter he had rigged up a sheet-covered table from a litter stretched between two up-turned crates. And nearby was his tray of spotless instruments and rows of odd-sized bandages. Yes, he was ready for business as usual. He pulled up a country-store type chair, seated himself comfortably in it, picked up the latest issue of COLLIERS, and thanked us for bringing him to his "office."

Continuing our explorations on the set, we first noted two signs at the street corner. One read HOLLYWOOD and the other VINE. At least these people had a sense of humor, and a good one.

We strolled into the Oriental Saloon, where the painters were busy ageing the top of the long mahogany-covered bar. Indians were hanging up the mirrors behind the tiers of brightly-labelled bottles.

Down past the General Store, we glanced in at the replica of the old Tombstone jail, on beyond (Please Turn to Page Four)

County's Highway
Budget Up a Third
Over Year Before

Riverside county's budget of $665,945 for highways and bridges for 1945-46, was 36 per cent more than the $488,143 spent by the county for this purpose for 1941-42, California Taxpayers' association said today, making public its study of spending for highways and bridges by California counties.

For 1944-45 the county budgeted $410,440 for highways and bridges, but was able to spend only $503,144, the association said.

Over the state as a whole, county highway and bridges budgets totalled $43,909,811 for 1945-46, almost double the $22,778,108 spent in 1941-42. For 1944-45, the counties budgeted $33,267,280 for highways and bridges, but spent only $20,817,600.

A large part of the funds which counties spend on roads and bridges comes from the gas tax and motor vehicle license taxes, the association said, pointing out that most counties budget all the amount they expect to receive from these sources.

"With the counties receiving considerably more than they have been able to spend, great care is necessary on the part of local governing boards to see that amounts left over are worked into a long-time program for the improvement of the highway system," the association said.

Liquor on Indian
Land Proves Costly
To Three Villagers

Three federal prisoners, arrested on the Palm Springs and Morongo Indian reservations and held in the county jail, were tried on liquor charges by Attorney Alva D. McGuire, U.S. commissioner last week.

Elbert Rader, 40, of Palm Springs, arrested on a drunk charge, paid a fine of $25.

Lawrence Thomas Aguilar, 42, of Palm Springs, charged with introducing and having in his possession intoxicating liquor on the Morongo reservation, was held for trial in the U. S. district court, Los Angeles, Aguilar, a returned army veteran, was released on his own recognizance.

Christopher Saubel, 55, of Palm Springs, charged with being drunk on the Palm Springs Indian reservation was fined $60, in default of which he is serving 30 days in the county jail.

Thinks Village
Still the Best Place To Live

Mexico City is nice—but Palm Springs is nicer.

That, in substance, was the text of a letter to The Sun this week from Barbara Schilly, who last season wrote "From Head to Toe," a fashion column, in The Sun.

"I am now firmly ensconced in Mexico and like it very much except for the weather—believe I know a place where it is just a little nicer. (But probably not at this time of the year.)

"However the scenery is lovely.
School is interesting but I am afraid I won't graduate the fluent-Spanish speaking person I had hoped to be.

"It might interest the editor of The Sun to know that we get the Hit Parade down here every Saturday night. Also that I have heard some interesting Mexican records of very good tunes."

Miss Schilly will be back in the Village in the fall.

Repeats Schedules
Giving Village 17
Busses Daily

For the convenience of Villagers, R. R. Dunlap, local agent for the Pacific Greyhound lines, this week repeated the new schedule now in effect through Palm Springs, providing eight westbound busses and nine east bound busses daily.

Two of the west bound busses run via San Bernardino and Pasadena and three east bound busses use the Foothill route. The remainder use the Valley lines via Pomona, Ontario and Riverside.

The new eastbound schedule
as announced by Mr. Dunlap:

Leave	Arrive
Los Angeles	Palm Springs
*7:40 a.m.	11:25 a.m.
8:00 a.m.	11:38 a.m.

*Via San Bernardino.

Mrs. Brown Now
In San Francisco

Mrs. Ona Brown, well-known Village socialite, is now in San Francisco for a six-week stay, according to word received by friends here, and then she plans to go to New York for a brief visit before returning to Palm Springs.

She has spent most of the summer in Santa Barbara with friends and enjoyed a motor tour to Lake Louise. She went to San Francisco by private plane to visit friends there.

Ruth Jones Sees
Old Home Town
En Route East

Ruth Jones, manager of the La Siesta bungalows and formerly acting secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is down in the Blue Grass country, en route on a vacation trip to the east coast which will take her as far as Bar Harbor, Me.

She spent some time in her old home town of Covington, Ky.
"Am selling Palm Springs like mad to these Ohioans and Kentuckians," she wrote, indicating the old chamber of commerce spirit is still there.

Miss Jones left here two weeks ago with Mrs. Esther Gilbert, owner of the La Siesta and other properties here.

The Scilly islands are located at the entrance to the English channel, about 30 miles southwest of Land's End.

the Silver Strike Saloon to the Bird Cage Theatre. Past the Theatre was a corral. We retraced our steps, crossed "Vine," and went west on "Hollywood." On the corner was the big Mansion House, with its Boarding House, Cafe, Bon Ton Tonsorial Palace,
and the Reservation. EPITAPH newspaper office all housed within its two-story structure. Next was the Wells Fargo Corral, then the Express Company building, the Valley Bank, and finally the famous OK Corral, where the notorious gun-battle between the Earps and the Clantons took place.

ELABORATE SETS

Back to "Vine," we headed north up that street, past the Doc's office to J. L. Bones, As-sayer's Office, by another corral, then to the Blacksmith Shop and a big barn. At the far end of the street, only a floor with a skeletal tower and bell, was the church, which in the film's plot was not completed.

Ageing of the fresh lumber and timber in the corrals was done mainly by gray paint and generous applications with a blowtorch. It amused me very much to spy a dozen or so long wooden crates containing white plaster-of-Paris saguaro cacti, all ready to be erected along the streets and to be painted green, with branching arms attached! At least they did bring some of the vegetation of the real Tombstone area up here. In fact, the set is nearly a perfect duplication of that city in 1881, with the single exception, of course, of the background of monuments.

Navahos were unpacking several large crates, and as we watched, the various parts were quickly assembled into covered wagons. Again I was impressed at the number of props necessary to film such a costume picture.
No wonder the studios need so many technicians.

Our tour of the set left me with a better appreciation of a movie producer's problems. Chico laughingly said he'd like to work in the films as an extra, little thinking that he actually would, and as the stand-in for Tim Holt!

We returned to Goulding's and made preparations to depart westward. Aunt Molly, "Mike," and Harry all bid us adieu and we jostled off on the road to Kayenta, our goal: Betatakin ruins and Rainbow Bridge.

To Be Continued.

Village Girls at Azalea Trails Have Big Time, Report

Second session of the Girl Scout summer camp, Azalea Trails at Idyllwild, which ended yesterday, had many Palm Springs Girl Scouts in happy attendance.

Among those at the camp were Loretta Browell, Valerie and Virginia Hubbs and Sondra Herbert, who went direct from the Village. Joining them at the camp from Idyllwild were Carolyn Harper and Eleanor Purcell. Three Village girls who had attended the first session liked it so well they stayed for the second. They were Barbara Devorzon, Shirley Lockett and Roselle Pleasant.

More girls are planning to attend from Palm Springs for the third session.

World Looking to West Coast, Says Official of Bank

Increasing understanding of the commercial and financial importance of our Pacific Coast states, particularly California, by the bankers, business men, important industrialists and shipping interests of northwestern Europe, has been reported by Eric Hallbeck, assistant vice-president in the international banking department of the Bank of America, a copy of whose findings was received by Fred Ingram, manager of the local branch, Bank of America, this week.

On behalf of the bank, Hallbeck just completed four and a half months of intensive on-the-ground study of Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Holland

Merritt Smith Family To Take Off On Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Smith, daughter, Dixie, and the family pet, Nippie, are taking off Sunday on the annual vacation trip which will eventually land them in San Francisco.

En route, however, they will spend some time at Ben Loman, back in the woods near Carmel. Smith plans to try to improve his golf game at Pebble Beach during the vacation tour.

and Belgium. He also spent some time in England.

His mission was to create closer relationships between the commercial and industrial interests of those countries and our Pacific Coast through direct connections, and thus to foster direct trade in greatly expanded volume.

Hallbeck found many California products on the shelves of stores in Sweden and a keen desire in the other countries visited to once again have these items freely available. He also found a lively demand for information on other products available here, and the fact that California had achieved such strong economic, industrial and population gains had greatly increased the prestige of this state abroad.

Officials of Bank of America believe that the establishment of these direct relationships between the Pacific Coast and the business interests of foreign countries, eliminating the custom of dealing through Eastern financial centers, will prove to be an important factor in the development of our entire Far West.

Gwen Bari at Lido Starting on Monday

Gwen Bari, noted pianist and vocalist, will open an engagement at the Lido next Monday night, it was announced this week. She is well known in the Village, having filled engagements at many of the local places where her programs were highly enjoyed.

Flying Contractor Commutes by Air From Office Here

"It was rough coming through the Pass but nice enough here," said Fred Duffy, engineer with the W. B. Whisenand company, in charge of several local construction projects.

Duffy is rapidly earning the title of "the flying contractor" for Wednesday's flight from Los Angeles here was his third in as many weeks. On this week's flight here he was accompanied by Ray Hendricks, manager of the Montebello airport and husband of Loraine Day. He flew down here in his own plane, a Vultee B-T and after several hours of business activity here, flew back the same night.

"That's the way to travel," he said. "We have most of the day to attend to business here instead of spending half of it on the trip."

"And I understand that on Wednesday traffic was blocked for a while by the heavy rains. We had rain up to 5,000 feet, too, but it didn't block us."

Veith Family Takes Ride On Aerial Tramway

Mr. and Mrs. William Veith are visiting their son Charles Veith in Naples, Maine, and on their way back to the Village, plan to spend a few days in Chicago.

In a card to The Sun, Mr. Veith, former Indian agent here, now with Culver Nichols realty office, wrote that they had taken a ride on the Franconia Notch aerial tramway in New Hampshire.

"But our own aerial ride in Palm Springs will be much longer, higher and more scenic," he wrote. "Can hardly wait to ride that one."

Villagers on Vacation

Moya Henderson Writes from the Top of the Hill

Everything happens to me. When we arrived here about three weeks past, a nice little white cat decided to call us her family. In spite of no encouragement on my part she has occupied one of the only two chairs that grace the porch. Sunday to show her appreciation of services rendered she presented us with eight little gifts from heaven. Three hours after she received congratulations, the Jack Savages, who were our next door neighbors drove up from San Jacinto to say hello and found we had their cat.

They would arrive when the family can't be moved for some weeks. This is the first time I have ever had kittens and the responsibility weighs heavy on my shoulders.

Real estate still highlights the news. Bud Funk sold his very attractive house on lower Circle Drive this week to the W. F. Jones of Palm Springs. The C. C. Neels have officially moved into their new cabin and daughter Babs took the weekend off from her studies at Woodbury to come up with a couple of pals for a little recreation. Tommy Tyndall has taken the Miller cabin down by the school house and has as his guest his very charming sister who arrived last week from South America.

The Four Chimneys was the scene of a farewell for Mrs. Lauritz Hansen last Saturday night. Mrs. Hansen has been trying for some time to book passage on any boat leaving for the Islands and has finally decided to take to the air. She will spend this week with son Richard in La Canada and take off on the 29th to be with her daughter, Rita Leak, who expects a visit from the stork in August. Those honoring the Hansens at The Chimneys were the Carl Lykkes, William Butts, the William Johns and Harriet Henderson. They in turn were guests of the Hansens for cocktails on Sunday before they turned the key in the lock and took off for the desert.

Betty Wright, Jackie Kingsbury and Mary Louise Klug, Palm Springs high school coeds, let their horses consume my oak tree while I tried to sell them the idea that what they needed to brighten their homes was a little white kitten (or black for that matter, we're not proud and we've got both kinds). Billy Wright has taken a cabin not far from the Village for the remainder of the season. Directed Leone Inman and her daughter Barbara over that way Sunday so I hope the address was correct. Leone plans to return this weekend with Dorothy Fanning.

Maybe there's some truth in that story that you can't get much sleep these nights on the desert. Saw Barney Hinkle Saturday eve and he said as how he had arrived on the Hill with Mary Jane and Milt Hicks and that by nine o'clock Milt had hit the sack. Verna Nicholson, Juanita Crockett and Josephine Sprague went down to Palm Springs Monday and reported the rain up here a bit more refreshing. Vera's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rolphing of Long Beach, are her house guests this week.

The Steve Vidosics have one of the loveliest views to be had from their cabin way up in Fern Valley. We're really looking forward with new interest to that Palm Springs campfire on August 3rd after seeing in last weeks paper that it would be

Youngsters Sought After Attempt to Break Into House

Identity of two boys, believed to be about 12 years of age, was being sought by police today following report of an attempt to enter the home of Earl Cordrey, 429 South Bellard, Tuesday.

Neighbors called police reporting that the lads had kicked in a screen. Police hurried to the scene and found that a French window had been pushed open but found no evidence of entry.

The boys had disappeared when police arrived.

Month's Vacation Ahead but Part of It to Mean Work

Hatchett's Market, Arenas road and Indian avenue, is going to close August 3 for its annual vacation but it won't be all play for Elmo Purnel and Ruth Moseley, proprietors.

In the month the market will be closed they plan to spend about two weeks in remodeling the market and then they'll be off.

Mr. and Mrs. Purnel plan to go to Idyllwild for a while and then to the Purnel ranch in the Sierras—Jordan Hot Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Moseley are mapping plans for a motor trip to San Francisco.

The staff of the store will be scattered from mountains to beaches for their vacations.

Letters to the Editor

HIS IDEA OF A REST

Dear Phat: You probably think you have had a vacation slumbering in a Pullman seat and waiting for call to the next meal. Well, my idea of a vacation is to get in the car and go where there is scenery and fish and we have surely found both. Mrs. Irvin and I are up near the end of Vancouver Island at Painter's Fishing Lodge, which is headquarters of the British Type Club, and here are pictures and more pictures of fishermen from everywhere with their catch, none less than 40 pounds. Our first time out Mrs. I. caught two and I caught two, they averaged eight pounds each. It is a thrill to pull in one of these big ones which takes from fifteen to thirty minutes. At the present time only spring and Coho salmon are running, the big types start in August. We go out about 7 p.m. and fish until 10:30. It is still quite light at this time. Every boat out last night had at least three fish. Most all fish are given to the guides who sell them to fish boats that come by every day.

We will be here until the 14th, when we cross the strait to Van-

Lt. Phelps Goes To Hawaii Base

Willis M. Phelps, 24, air corps lieutenant, has been assigned to the Hawaiian air depot at Honolulu.

Mrs. Phelps, the former Ruby N. Neff, and their 2-month-old daughter, Virginia Ann, reside at 572 South Indian avenue.

Lt. Phelps graduated from Cherokee high school, Cherokee, Okla., and entered military service in September, 1940.

His parents live in Cherokee.

couver and from there head east to Mable Lake, near Revelstoke, where Councilman Maurice McCann is supposed to have some big rainbows staked out. After getting all we want there we go up round the Big Bend of the Columbia River and down to Lake Louise and Banff, Yellowstone Park, then home. I don't want to make you feel badly but this is my idea of a real vacation. Harry Irvin.

That is a fundamental characteristic of industry—the miracle of American ingenuity. The ability to produce, under all kinds of conditions, has been proven time and time again... Today you will find industry, everywhere, overcoming its handicaps, breaking through the obstacles that surround it, leaping the hurdles before it.

With the settlement of most of the major strikes, manufacturers of material of all kinds, including telephone equipment, will soon be "hitting their stride", and peacetime production will be on its fast and furious way.

Just the moment our new equipment arrives, installations will be made with all possible speed.

Village Pharmacy Plans Closing for Next Five Weeks

Vacation days are ahead for Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Crockett and the staff of the Village Pharmacy. Come Sunday night and the padlock will be placed on the door, to remain there until the day after Labor day.

The Crocketts are looking forward to a well-earned rest at their cabin in Idyllwild and the staff has plans which cover the entire area from mountains to the coast.

$48.13 Average Aid Given Needy

The 3,459 people receiving aid as needy aged in Riverside county got an average of $48.13 during May, California Tax-payers' association said today. Aid paid to the needy aged in the county during the one month totalled $166,466, with $68,235 coming from the federal government, $81,980 from the state, and $16,251 from the county.

Average aid for the 161,523 people receiving old age assistance in California during May, 1946, was $47.56. Total aid paid during the single month in California was $7,682,732, financed $3,160,398 from the federal government, $3,771,457 from the state, and $750,877 from the counties.

Desert Youth Sees Near East

Pvt. Harry V. Learnerd Jr., U.S.M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Learnerd of Desert Hot Springs, is serving aboard the light cruiser USS Providence, now at Philadelphia after completing eight months duty as flagship of the Mediterranean fleet.

While on the Providence, the desert youth saw many of the cities of the Near East.

Great Britain acquired the Island of Bombay from the Portuguese in 1661. It was the second British Possession in India.

Yale university was founded by ten ministers of the colony of Connecticut, at Saybrook, in 1701. It was moved to New Haven in 1716.

Sun Publisher Due Back After Farm Vacation

Harold Barkow, co-publisher of The Desert Sun, Mrs. Barkow and their small son, Harold Jr., took off today from Hays, Kansas, and expect to be back at their home, 1338 Beuna Vista drive, Monday.

"Plenty to eat back here in Kansas — chicken, beef, milk, cream, eggs, all kinds of fresh vegetables — life on the farm goes on, plentiful with food, OPA or NOPA."

"You oughta see the kid chase the chickens — and you can't say that's an inherited tendency. I never did. So help me."

Spaldings Back From Auto Jaunt Through State

Mr. and Mrs. Wall Spalding and daughter Judy, 15, and son Tommy, 8, returned to the Village this week after a vacation tour from desert to seacoast to mountains and to big cities.

Most of the time they roughed it, sleeping out of doors and enjoying life. "Really rugged, sometimes," said Spalding.

First they were at Laguna Beach, then to Big Bear, then to the Bishop country where they fished the Walker river. From there they went to Reno and then to San Francisco via Lake Tahoe before heading for home.

Delinquent Tax Rolls Increase

Riverside county's delinquent tax roll for the fiscal year 1945-46 amounts to $129,189 on a total charge of $4,756,953, according to tabulations released yesterday, Miss V. M. Hyde, county tax collector. Delinquent percentage for the year is .027.

On a total charge of $4,156,830 for the fiscal year 1944-45 the delinquent roll amounted to $101,953 for a percentage of .025.

Collections for the first half of the fiscal year 1945-46 were $3,386,979, for the second half $1,173,550 and on the delinquent roll, $67,234 for a total of $4,627,764.

Heavy Rainfall Blamed for Auto Accident Here

Heavy rainfall in the south end of the valley was blamed for an automobile accident Saturday when the car driven by Harry C. Cooper of Indio skidded off Highway 111 near the city limits at 2 p.m.

Cooper told police he was blinded by the sudden heavy rain squall and that his car skidded over the edge of the highway and turned over on its side.

Cooper, his wife and Cal Nickles, all of Indio, were in the car at the time but escaped serious injury.

Tree Principal Casualty in Traffic Mishap

A big tree on the west side of Palm Canyon in the 200 block was the principal casualty in a traffic mishap Tuesday.

A truck, laden with pipe for a desert construction job and driven by Cecil Woodring of Bell Gardens, rammed into the tree, tearing off a big limb which fell into the street, a hazard to other traffic.

City employees removed the broken limb and later in the day Woodring, on his return trip, stopped at the police department to report the mishap.

No One Hurt as Two Cars Crash

No one was injured when an automobile driven by John W. Lester figured in a rear end collision with a car driven by George Brant. After hitting Brant's auto, the car driven by Lester skidded several feet, turning completely around.

Damage to both cars was considerable.

Traffic citations were issued after the crash.

KCMJ Interview Gives Insight on General Hap Arnold

Although KCMJ, due to previous commitments, was unable to carry a recent address by General Hap Arnold over the CBS network, they still afforded RadiOasis listeners the opportunity of learning about the General's talk in an interview the next day conducted by Dick Joy with Lt. Comdr. Edward A. Quarterman, USNR attached to Naval Aviation and Industrial Member of the Institute of Aeronautical Engineers. Commander Quarterman arrived in Palm Springs after attending the Institute's annual summer session at the University of California which was climaxed by General Arnold's address. Mr. Joy, who with Don McBain is co-owner of KCMJ served on Cmdr. Quarterman's staff at the Naval Air station at Vernalis, California during the war.

After the broadcast, Mr. Joy and Commander Quarterman along with Russ Ehresman, KCMJ promotion manager, and his wife motored to 29 Palms where a glider meet was being held.

Tragedy Delays Travelers Here

Passengers, awaiting a Greyhound bus at 8:37 p. m. Thursday night, had a longer wait than usual. The stage was delayed as result of a crash between a truck and a trailer and private automobile, which blocked traffic east of Indio for some time.

Two women were killed and a 10-year-old boy injured in the mishap.

Driver of the truck and trailer, Joe Keeler, 47, Holtville, was accused of manslaughter as result of the accident.

Those killed were Edwina Osburn Milan, 47, and Nancy Osburn, 71, both of Inglewood. The injured boy was Billy Milan.

Flood Work ...

ready been formulated, according to Bookman. The actual survey is to start the next month and should be completed within two weeks.

TO START SOON

Actual work on flood control channels will start in December, Bookman said. If the property owners in Cathedral City will pay their end of the financial outlay, Bookman declared that the policy of the flood control district is to provide protection for the present owners of improved property.

"The desire of the residents of Cathedral City is to include property located west of the present developed area and south within the zone to be protected by the flood control levee," Bookman said.

SET UP FUNDS

He added that with this picture in mind the Flood Control district has set up their portion of the funds to provide protection for the owners of all improved property in that district.

"We'll start the project, which is estimated will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000, by December," Bookman added, "if the property owners will come forward with their share of the cost."

PROVIDE CROSS

Money has already been set up for the study of Palm Canyon at Araby Point. Bookman's office has already taken up the matter with the state division of highways to provide adequate crossing for the flood waters coming out of the numerous canyons. The study of this flood control situation will be a lengthy one, Bookman said.

The promise that the flood control situation beyond Cathedral City would be solved within the very near future brought sighs of relief from residents of Rancho Mirage and owners of property between that subdivision and Cathedral City.

FULL AID PLEDGED

Speaking of the job to be done in that area, Snyder said the work should be completed within one year. He said that Ronald A. Button, subdivision of Rancho Mirage, has agreed to pay the initial cost of the work and it is only a matter of co-ordinating the engineering to be done there with the State Highway Division where the flood control system crosses the highway.

"We have been handicapped by the lack of sufficient equipment," said Snyder. "However, within the very near future the district will be in a better position to commence work on so large a project."

Flash Flood ...

inches and two feet. In some offices, it was at chair level. The receding waters left mud and silt in many places. At the real estate office of W. R. Hillery, it was estimated that the water was almost two feet deep as it swept through the building.

Property damage may be heavy as it is reported some of the buildings were undermined by the torrent.

PIPE LINES SWING

Roads were gutted so deeply in some spots that water mains were left suspended above the former roadways.

Magnesia canyon also poured forth a torrent during the height of the storm but the flood waters by-passed Rancho Mirage.
Some damage was reported in the windstorm which preceded the rain. Billboards were flattened along Highway 111 but it was reported no damage was done to buildings.

THUNDER STORMS

Thunder storms were daily events in the mountains back of the Village for almost a week. Several times the power supply to the city was disrupted by the storm and linemen were kept on the jump throughout the desert area keeping the current moving.

In Palm Springs 14 of an inch of rain fell Tuesday and .02 Wednesday bringing the total for the 1946-47 rainfall season to .16 as of yesterday. A year ago, no rain fell in July.

MORE ABOUT ...

Melon Contest ...

watermelon rind showed clear and white and not until then, could any of the racers raise their head, and Eddie in one contest, Tommy in the other reached pay-dirt in fast time and way out in front.

THE FUN, THAT IS

The prize was two-bits each, Earl Hough reported, but it wasn't the money that counted so much as the terrific fun the boys had in the race.

All of them emerged with watermelon pulp and black seeds clinging to their bodies from the top of their heads down to their—well, ah, hem elleybey buttons.
Two hundred and sixty pounds of the fruit was consumed by 60 boys, Hough declared. He said that when a call went out for volunteers to help load the melons in a station wagon, most all of the boys volunteered for the job.

SOFT BALL GAME

Preceding the watermelon fest a softball contest was held between the white and colored members of the Boys' Club. Nobody really kept score and who the winners were was hard to tell when the game ended. This game was followed by ping-pong.
Within the next two weeks or so, all of the boys will be guests of Earl Strebe at the Palm Springs Theatre, Earl Hough announced.
Joe Butler of the Safeway store donated the melons.

Before Your Eyes
By BILL RASHALL

CAN'T UNDERSTAND where all the automobiles come from that are parked on Palm Canyon Drive between the hours of 7 p.m. and 12 midnight. Had to go two blocks beyond what remains of Palm Springs' gay white way in order to cover my "beat."

Found Charley Farrel looking frantically for Frank Bogert. Later I ran into Bogert seeking the whereabouts of Farrel. Wonder if they ever got together?

IN THE MEANTIME I learned from Farrel that he is planning to make a trip to Peru with a friend of his who owns a DC3, the same type of airship that the airlines use. His friend, Farrel said, bought the ship from the Army. Both are going down there at the invitation of the Peruvian government. The trip has something to do with oil development.

Asked Phil Delano what he intends to do with the golf course he bought up at Idyllwild. Said that he and his partners Bill Headland and Trent Meredith, owners of the Idyllwild Construction company plan to subdivide the golf course. It comprises fifty acres and it will be parcelled out in lots of 100 by 140 feet. J. F. Davis, Riverside engineer, is laying out the project.

ONE THING the three partners did not bargain for when they bought the golf course was the grave of a person who died in 1872. The grave is situated right in the middle of the course and the subdividers will respect it as hallowed ground. The headstone on the grave is made of heavy sheet iron and the name of the person resting there was punched into the metal.

Jerry Nathanson the new proprietor of Devine's market plans to do great things when he opens for business September 1.

The store will no longer bear the old name and will instead be called "Cherry's" of Palm Springs. Nathanson is well known in Beverly Hills where he has operated Cherry's Fine Foods for many years.

WELL, TWO MORE popular spots will close this Sunday for a month or more. The Village Pharmacy will close Sunday. Just to even the score, the Palm Springs Drug & Import Company will open the following Monday.

The second spot closing Sunday is The Dunes which will not re-open until early in September. During the period it remains closed, the place will be given a new coat of paint and some of the furniture re-upholstered. Ann Taylor who has been managing the place in the absence of Ruby is planning a trip to her home

What Goes On at Rancho Mirage

Touching on a deep subject—wells, it might be well to bring you up to date on the drilling situation around here. Jimmy Wright is completing a new well for Henry Gogerty on his new Mirage Airport Tract just to the east of us. On across the wash, Claude Kelly, an Indian man working through Jimmy Wright, is using a rotary outfit to put down a 300 foot well for Bill Reichel's dates on Rancho Escondido. That busy little beaver, John Beylik of El Monte, who is always flying around in a new green jeep, has his own California Scow Rig and drills for the Roscoe Moss company. After putting down a 620 foot well for Cliff Henderson's Palm Desert Tract and a 640 foot well for rancher L. A. Haskins he is now sinking a deep one on that new tract east of Henderson's being opened by the Harnish company. Boy, they sure go deep down that way! We hit water around here between 90 and 150 feet.

Palm Springs Post of the American Veterans of World War II is holding a meeting here at our Legion Hall tonight. They have invited, as special guests, the Amvets from Indio and the Legion members of Rancho Mirage. Ronald Button, the Amvet State Commander, will be here and we hope that he brings Hedy with him. Too bad we can't have a Jap Jet plane here so we could have our pictures with Hedy, too.

Folks, I am a true California weather prophet. I have been spouting off to all and sundry that we only have enough dew here to get our feet wet every three years. Well, last year carried out my predictions but is my face red already this year and here is only July. Along with the rest of this area we have been enjoying the thunder but last Tuesday were selected for the elect. What I want to say is that we have a very efficient state highway maintenance service. Harold Lieneau was right on the job and was out with the blade, clearing the roads after dark so that motorists could get through on Highway 111 easily.

town near Billings, Wyoming. She leaves by air Monday.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL Herman, brother of Al Herman, co-owner of the Lido were in town Tuesday. It was their first time in Palm Springs and they had heard SO MUCH about the sun here. All that day the Villagers delighted in the unusual weather, but not Mr. and Mrs. Herman—it rained. Remember?

Yale university was founded by ten ministers of the colony of Connecticut, at Saybrook, in 1701. It was moved to New Haven in 1716.

FOR THE MENSWEAR MANUFACTURERS

Palm Springs Roundup

OCTOBER 21 - 24

The Menswear Manufacturers of Los Angeles are staging in Palm Springs one of the greatest events in the history of the apparel industry in America. More than 4000 retailers from throughout the United States have expressed a desire to attend a momentous jamboree, merchandising clinic and fashion show which will be staged in Palm Springs, October 21 through 24.

Leading Palm Springs Hotels are cooperating splendidly, but although we have already received from the hotel owners here, approximately 1000 reservations, we are still deluged with requests for more space. This show, involving an expenditure of more than $100,000, is attracting such wide spread interest that we are anxious to make available every accommodation possible for these retailers. They will be potential customers for years to come as they are the traveling public of America — they will carry the magic message of Palm Springs to every community throughout the United States. How better can Palm Springs get advertising!

This advertising is an appeal to those hotel and apartment owners who have space available and have not to this point made available to us all possible accommodations. Will you please notify us by return mail on the bottom of this ad if it will be possible for you to give us accommodations. We will work out the details and mechanics through direct correspondence. The following is a list of the hotels and organizations which are already contributing their whole-hearted support and cooperation:

Desert Inn
House of Murphy
La Quinta
El Encanto
El Morocco
El Dorado
Hotel Del Tahquitz
El Irisado Apartments
